NEW YORK, Aug. 29, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Rezolve AI (NASDAQ: RZLV) is excited to announce its rapid progress towards achieving its goal of becoming a global leader in Conversational Commerce, following its successful NASDAQ listing and recently announced strategic partnerships with industry leaders such as ChatWerk and ePages. These milestones underline Rezolve's significant potential in the AI-powered eCommerce space, driven by its proprietary foundational Large Language Model (LLM), brainpowa.

A New Era in E-Commerce Powered by brainpowa

Rezolve's proprietary foundational LLM, brainpowa, is at the heart of its innovative product suite, designed specifically for commerce. This unique technology enables "Conversational Commerce," empowering businesses to engage with customers in real-time across 95 languages, and deliver instant checkout experiences via the web, Location, Audio, Print and popular social platforms like WhatsApp, Facebook, and Instagram. The integration of brainpowa across Rezolve's partner platforms, including ChatWerk and ePages, is set to redefine how commerce is conducted globally.

Last week, Rezolve announced that ePages, the leading provider of cloud-based eCommerce platforms for small and medium-sized businesses in Europe, has also joined forces with Rezolve. With over 100,000 client companies, ePages is leveraging Rezolve's AI-driven engagement platform to enhance customer experiences and drive revenue growth.
